

MY UNDERSTANDING WILL BE GREATER, MY PLEASURE UNDOUBTEDLY ENHANCED.

It has been said that a fellow is a friend.
I feel the same about a leather chair artfully prepared.
I take time to fully savor the complexity--
the marriage between the filler and the mind.
Skilled fingers of experience.

For a moment, I remember the aroma,
everything else is blocked from my mind.
I recreate each step in life like carefully measured piles on a desk deeply aging before beginning their journey.

One of my greatest moments was in the factory.
My visit was announced over a loudspeaker, and on hearing I was American, they stopped.
In unison began banging their chavetas on their desks.
Steel blades tapped up my spine.
Overwhelmed.
Part of a worldwide network.

I approached each with anticipation.
The more I know, the better understanding I have,
the more appreciation I'll have for the subject.
This applies in general, but to the subject in particular.

Power and authority.
Cheap forms of wealth and luxury
bring us to tension--unease.
They often symbolize the end.

Take time, be carefully chosen.
Knowledge is designed to increase construction.
In the process, you understand the subject better and eventually you'll enhance your enjoyment.
